Role description

Title	INAS Anti-Doping Committee Member
Reports to	INAS Head of Anti-Doping
Start date	Immediate
End date	April 2021

Position Overview

To ensure compliance with the WADA and IPC Anti-Doping Code, and to promote best practice, INAS established an Anti-Doping Committee to oversee all aspects of its doping control programme. We would like to invite applications to the post of Anti-Doping Committee Member.

As a member of IPC, INAS is responsible for the promotion and management of drug free sport in line with WADA and IPC Anti-Doping policy.

The Committee is comprised of a number of independent practitioners who are responsible for advising and implementing INAS anti-doping procedures. The Committee also liaises with event organisers to ensure compliance at INAS World and Regional events.

Anti-Doping Committee members each take responsibility for a specific area of anti-doping procedure/practice. These include considering TUE applications, managing results, managing whereabouts information and the registered testing pool, overseeing appeals, managing an athlete education programme or liaising with INAS event organisers and Sports Directors.

The area of focus for the new Committee Member will include overseeing processing of results and appeals.

Skills and Qualifications

- A recognised qualification, and experience, in a relevant medical or legal field
- A detailed understanding of doping control policy and stakeholders
- Excellent communication skills, attention to detail, and ability to work remotely.
- Have good IT skills, with access to email
- Must be fluent in English language

Committee Meetings & Costs

The role is voluntary and will be undertaken remotely, making use of phone conference and email wherever possible. Occasional travel to meetings may be required, and should this be necessary, INAS will cover out of pocket expenses.

Application process

Applications should be made by CV/Covering letter which clearly states the post for which you are applying and details your suitability for the role, no later than Friday 27th May 2016. Applications should be sent by post to the address above or by email to antidoping@inas.org.
